NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2011

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF BUSINESS

Organization and Business - The Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Florida on April 16, 1997, for the purpose of selling investment products and securities and other services related to investment advisement, money management, or other business services. The Company's customer base is primarily located in Florida.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Customers, Broker-Dealers, Trading Inventory and Investment Balances - The Company is a registered broker-dealer and maintains its accounts on a settlement date basis; however, the accompanying financial statements are prepared on a trade date basis. The Company is an introducing broker, and as such, clears all transactions through a correspondent broker who carries all customer and company accounts and maintains physical custody of customer and company securities.

All securities are valued at quoted market price and unrealized gains and losses are included in revenues from firm and investment trading. The Company does not own any restricted securities at December 31, 2011.

Government and Other Regulation - The Company's business is subject to significant regulation by various government agencies and self-regulatory organizations. Such regulation includes, among other things, periodic examinations by these regulatory bodies to determine whether the Company is conducting and reporting its operations in accordance with the applicable requirements of these organizations.

Property, Equipment, and Related Depreciation - Depreciation of property and equipment is provided by the straight-line method of depreciation at a rate calculated to amortize the cost of the assets over their estimated useful lives. The lives used in computing depreciation and amortization are as follows:

Years

Furniture and Equipment

5

The costs of maintenance and repairs of property and equipment are charged to expense as incurred. Costs of renewals and betterments are capitalized in the property accounts. When properties are replaced, retired, or otherwise disposed of, the cost of such properties and accumulated depreciation are deducted from the asset and depreciation reserve accounts. The related profit or loss, if any, is recorded in income.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

Cash and Cash Equivalents - For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers highly liquid instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Company's cash balances consist of cash held at one commercial bank.

Income Taxes - For income tax purposes, the Company accounts for all trading securities owned on a market value basis.

No provision for income taxes has been provided as the Company and its stockholders have elected "Subchapter S" status, whereby the Company does not pay Federal and State corporate taxes on its taxable income, but instead the stockholders are liable for individual taxes on their respective share of the corporation's taxable income.

Use of Estimates - The financial statements have been prepared in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles and, as such, include amounts based on informed estimates and judgments of management with consideration given to materiality. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent Events - In May 2009, the FASB issued an accounting standard that establishes general standards of accounting for and disclosure of events that occur after the balance sheet date but before the financial statements are issued or ready to be issued. The standard is effective for interim and annual periods ending after June 15, 2009. The standard did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

NOTE 3 - NET CAPITAL RULE

As a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Company must comply with the provisions of the Commission's "Net Capital" rules, which provide that "aggregate indebtedness", as defined, shall not exceed 15 times "Net Capital", as defined, and the "Net Capital", shall not be less than $100,000. At December 31, 2011, the Company's "Net Capital" was substantially in excess of its minimum requirement, and at no time during the year 2011 was the net capital short of the minimum requirement.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Accounting Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

Board of Directors
Florida Atlantic Securities Corp.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Florida Atlantic Securities Corp. (the Company), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2011, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13.
- 2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

Florida Atlantic Securities Corp. Page Two

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgements by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's previously mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with United States generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Florida Atlantic Securities Corp. Page Three

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined previously.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2011, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
